The submission of assignments continues to be going well and I cannot thank you enough for all that you are doing. I am eternally grateful to you for your patience and understanding in trying to find the right balance for you, your family, and the school. I am hoping that you will find the upcoming weeks to be a little more peaceful and less work than we have had. After today, all Science, Social Studies, and Projects have been assigned for the remainder of this school year. What that means for you is that we will be doing Reading, Writing, Spelling, and Math daily from here on out. If you are behind, this allows you the extra time to get caught up. If not, enjoy the extra time for whatever you choose...

I continue to feel completely blessed having you all as part of my team. I am just so thankful for you and all that you continue to do! Thank you for your honesty and support. This has been a major adjustment and I think we have finally found our "sweet spot". You truly are wonderful. Stay strong and keep praying...

Writing:

- The students should have chosen a book, filled out the graphic organizer (see above), and written a rough draft. Today, the rough draft should be finalized and the final copy should begin to be written. Their thoughts should be written in a way that makes sense and is easy to read. For the final draft, spelling, grammar, and sentence structure matter. All sentences should begin with a capital letter. All sentences should have punctuation marks. I will ask the students to think about their Who, What, When, Where, and Why questions to support their thinking while writing their response. When they write it, it must be legible, well written, and in complete sentences that make sense. It must flow and be easily read. Most of the spelling must be correct. They will turn in a final draft which means that they may have to write this more than once. Be prepared as many of the students don't like to write it the first time. If at any point this week, you want to send it to me for my "notes" to the students for enhanced writing, please feel free to send it as we go.
- Any incomplete work from previous days or weeks

Students:

Good Morning and Happy Thursday!!! Thank you again for giving me your best during our time on Zoom. I love seeing your beautiful faces each morning! I always look forward to our mini-lessons and seeing you. I feel that we have gotten much better about getting the work done quickly so that we have time to play at the end.

I know this writing assignment seems frustrating but please take your time on your work so that I don't have to send it back to be completed again. I want to honor your time and freedom. Redoing work that you could have done well with the first time is just wasting your potential free time. We've got this!!! Good luck today and my prayers are with you all!!!

Love,

Mrs. Hawley
